

REYES RULER OF COLOMBIA

Imprisons Members Of The Supreme Court, After Declaring Himself Dictator.

HIS TROOPS FIRED INTO THE MOB

Angry Citizens Attack The Executive Mansion, And Many Of Them Are Killed Or Wounded By The Soldiers.

Panama, Sept. 20.—Unconfirmed reports have reached here that Gen. Rafael Reyes, president of Colombia, had declared himself dictator on Sept. 8 and imprisoned the members of the Supreme Court at Bogota.

Mobs, angered by this action, attacked the presidential palace and were fired on by troops, who killed or wounded many of the rioters.

Gains Power by Intrigue.

Washington, Sept. 20.—No surprise was expressed here at the report of the action of Gen. Rafael Reyes, president of the republic of Colombia, in declaring himself dictator.

Gen. Reyes came to office through an intrigue which had its beginning as far back as the summer of 1900. At that time the president of the republic was an old man, Gen. Sanclemente, and the vice-president was Jose Manuel Marroquin. The former had been elected because of the expectation that his great age would cause his retirement immediately after the election, but, to the consternation of those who had worked for him, but really for Marroquin, he decided to hold the presidency.

President Is Imprisoned.

The problem then arose for Marroquin and Gen. Reyes, who was one of his strong friends, what action should be taken in order to obtain possession of the government.

President Sanclemente was induced to go to his country home for a short rest, and while there he was made prisoner by a force of military, which, under the orders of Vice-President Marroquin, finally gained control of the government at the expense of considerable bloodshed.

Marroquin was pledged to hand the presidency over to Gen. Reyes, and when his course in connection with the Panama canal treaty, which his ministers had negotiated with the United States, was strongly condemned, he arranged for the election of Gen. Reyes. To bring about this result he changed the governors of the departments of Magdalena, Bolivar and Panama, which was the cause of Panama's secession.

General Reyes Is Strong.

Gen. Reyes has been considered the strongest man in Colombia, but he never has been able to establish absolute tranquility. There have been sporadic revolutions in various states, but he has been able to maintain the upper hand up to the present time. It is possible the growth of the revolutionary element has been so great that finally he has been compelled to assume the dictatorship in order to prevent himself from being thrown out of office.

The experience of more than half a century ago has shown Colombia to be utterly incapable of keeping order on the isthmus or keep peace within its own jurisdiction, and as President Roosevelt said in his message of 1903, only the active interference of this government enabled her to preserve so much as a semblance of sovereignty.

In 1856, 1860, 1873, 1885, 1901, 1902 and 1903 sailors and marines from American warships were forced to land in order to patrol the isthmus and protect life and property and see that the transit across the isthmus was kept open.

HAVE SETTLED ALL DISPUTED POINTS

Governor's Fine Italian Hand Is Seen in the New Arrangements.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 20.—The capital park trolley pole controversy was practically settled last night at a long conference in the executive office in the capitol, between Acting Governor Davidson and representatives of the city and street car company. A stipulation was reached involving the suggestions of Governor La Follette at the meeting Monday night and the memoranda of Acting Governor Davidson presented at the meeting yesterday morning. The traction company is to maintain only one track around the park, is not to carry freight on these streets and the trolley poles are to be set at the edge of the park at the top of the cement curb, being imbedded in the cement. A slight concession is to be made to the traction company in the permission to maintain a siding on West Fifth street so as to accommodate the patrons of the opera-house. This seemed necessary and fair, because with only one track around the park it would be impossible to have cars at the opera-house for the accommodation of the Madison public unless a siding there were allowed.

The stipulation will be submitted to President Montgomery of the traction company and it is believed will receive his approval and be entered in the injunction suit so that the injunction will be raised and the work proceed this week. President Montgomery is out of the city and therefore could not personally attend the conferences.

TO STRENGTHEN THE STANDING IN JAPAN

Eastern Bishop Sent by Pope to Re- establish Influence Lost by Recent War.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 20.—The Rev. William H. O'Connell, Bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Maine, sailed from here today for Japan on a special mission on behalf of Pope Pius X. Bishop O'Connell declines to state the purpose of his mission, but it is believed that it is an important diplomatic mission between the Vatican and the Mikado of Japan, decided upon about the time of the conclusion of peace between Japan and Russia. It is also understood that the bishop's mission is to try and extend the influence of the Catholic religion in Japan, which at present is suffering from the imputation that it is a French institution, and France being an ally of Russia, comes in for a big share of popular distaste. It is thought that the most effective way of converting the Japanese is through diplomatic methods, instead of individual acts.

HANLEY FLAYS MR. SHERRICK

Executive Says That The Deposed State Offi- cial Gambled With State Funds.

HE MAKES SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS

And Also Makes Ugly Insinuations As To The Tax- ation Of The Railroads Of The State.

Hamilton, Ind., Sept. 20.—Gov. Hanley Tuesday, in a speech at the Thirtieth Indiana regimental reunion, indulged in many sensational utterances regarding David Sherrick, deposed auditor of state. He called Sherrick a common gambler and charged that $10,000 of the state's money was lost at the Casino at Tom Taggart's French Lick resort.

The governor reviewed all his relations with Sherrick, told of his failure to attend the meetings of the state board of tax commissioners, and gave as a reason that Sherrick's delinquency was caused by a midnight carousal around the gambling table, from which he could not recover in time to attend the sittings of the tax commissioners. He pledged his hearers to suppress the two Monte Carlos at French Lick and West Baden unless the laws of the state as now written prove inadequate.

The plain inference from the governor's words was that the corporate interests expected to control the office if they put up the money to enable Sherrick to make good. Continuing, the governor said:

Says Gamblers Got $10,000.

"In the latter part of the month of March, 1903, Mr. Sherrick spent some sixty days at the French Lick hotel, French Lick, Ind. While there he expended almost $10,000 of the money which I have been able to trace, much of which went directly, by check, into the hands of the men who then were operating the Casino. That money was the money of the state of Indiana. It was gambled away by Mr. Sherrick and from that hour until the present moment he has been a defaulter."

"Before my inauguration I received trustworthy information that he had written to the management of several railway companies in the month of December, 1904, over his own signature, as auditor of the state, asking them to send him all passes intended for members of the general assembly, then about to convene, stating in substance that he expected to have some legislation of personal interest before that body. He said if they would send their transportation to him for distribution he would see that their interests and his were cared for at the same time."

Auditor Distributes Passes.

"For three weeks the office of the auditor of the state was made a broker's office for the distribution of passes to such members of the general assembly as would receive them. At an executive session of the commission at which David E. Sherrick, as auditor of the state, was present, acting as a member, the assessment of the main line of the Monon Railway company came up for decision. The year before it had been assessed at $18,000 a mile, a valuation much under its actual value and much less than its comparative value. Its valuation was raised by the board to $20,000 a mile, an increase of $2,000 a mile, or a total increase on the main line of $783,520. Mr. Sherrick, as a member of the board, opposed the raising of that valuation with such vigor and with such poor logic as to excite comment."

"After the adjournment of the day's session I asked him the reason for his opposition. He said it was due to the fact that a friend of his, to whom he was under great obligation personally, could get permanent employment as counsel for the Monon if the assessment could be kept at $18,000 a mile."

MORE RAIDS IN THE CATHOLIC CEMETERY

Escanaba, Michigan, is the Next City Visited by the Vandals on Trip.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Escanaba, Mich., Sept. 20.—Following the raids on the Catholic cemeteries at Oconto, Peshtigo and ten other Wisconsin towns, in which thousands of dollars worth of monuments were wrecked, particularly crosses, a gang of three men last night destroyed one thousand dollars' worth of monuments and crosses in the St. Joseph and St. Ann's Catholic cemeteries in this city. The wooden crosses were all pulled up and piled in a corner. Everyone in the grounds is disturbed. Following the reports of other towns, the authorities had set a watch, but last night through a misunderstanding the guards failed to appear.

NO LIVE BADGER FOR THE UNIVERSITY NOW

Third Mascot of This Nature Dies Through Neglect at the Gymnasium.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Madison, Wis.—The live badger that was presented to the athletic department of the University of Wisconsin last spring, intended to be the mascot of badger teams, is dead, having died of neglect in the university gymnasium. This is considered by some as a bad omen for the Wisconsin football season, but on the whole here it is taken as prophesying success rather than disaster. This is the third live badger that has been carried as a mascot here, and it is agreed that none of them ever brought good luck. Practically all the superstition at the Wisconsin camp was against the badgers as mascots, for the believers in signs declare the animals were always digging holes in the ground at critical times in the contests over which they were supposed to guard the fortunes of the cardinal teams. It was observed that whenever the badger would succeed in digging a hole big enough to crawl into the Wisconsin team would take a slump or suffer bad fortune in the game, and explicit instructions were given to Caretaker John Hickey not to let the badger dig. It was out of this belief in the result of the digging of the badger that at times when poor luck came to the varsity in a game the caretaker would hasten to jerk vigorously at the badger's chain, seeking to break the hoodoo. Particular incidents are related that seem to bear out this superstition that the digging of the badger during an athletic contest is an assurance that bad fortune will come to the badger team, and as the state animal of Wisconsin is a natural digger, and particularly so when in front of a crowded grandstand, it is looked upon as courting defeat to have a live badger as mascot, and so the death of the third badger causes no disappointment and is even hailed as an encouraging sign.

CANAL ZONE WILL BE MUCH BETTER

MISS HUMPHREY WRITES OF SANITARY WORK BEING DONE.

HAVE NOW STOPPED DIGGING

When They Begin Again, All the Details Will Have Been Perfected To Complete Work.

(By Miss Humphrey.)
Colon, C. Z., Sept. 19.—A sentence of six weeks has many changes to record in a place so formative as is the Isthmus at the present time. Since the visit of the new commissioners, with whom I had the pleasure of traveling from New York to Colon, many more changes have taken place. All work on the canal proper has been abandoned for the present and the entire energies of the canal zone are centered on enlarging and bettering the quarters, making proper arrangements for disposing of the dirt when digging shall be resumed; making the towns and camps more comfortable by way of better sanitation; building refrigerator plants in which to store foodstuffs which will be brought down from the states and in building refrigerator cars to carry the foodstuffs along the line. There is a readjustment in officials to meet the changes in other lines, in fact so many changes are taking place all the time one does not feel safe in saying anything is to be so-and-so, for it is no more said than all is changed and you must adapt yourself to more new conditions. However, we feel that this upheaval is going to work out to some definite purpose. In six months conditions will be so much improved, living on the Isthmus will be pleasant enough to hold the employees, instead of giving them "cold feet" inside of a few weeks.

Fever Abated
Yellow fever is practically abated. There have been no cases in the Colon hospital for several weeks and only two reported recently from Ancon. Many changes have taken place in the hospital force in the past two months. The superintendent resigned in July and returned to the states. One of the staff physicians was promoted to the superintendent. Two of the former staff physicians have been transferred to other work and five new physicians are added to the staff. Two of the five being from Chicago. Eight more nurses have been added to the nursing force, making fourteen in all. Three new wards have been opened up and three more are in process of building.

New Operating Room
A new and complete operating room is nearly completed with a small surgical ward for white patients adjoining it. A two-story building near the hospital building has been purchased and fitted up for the nurses' quarters and a house next to it is now being fitted up for the doctors' quarters. So we are enjoying excellent accommodations, for the houses are lighted by electricity and have bath and good water supply. We hope soon to have a piano in our recreation room to add to our enjoyment of life. We will soon be as pleasantly fixed in our home as we would be in the states.

Supplies Coming
Every ship brings down supplies for the canal employees. A part of the hospital share recently was a new ambulance and hearse. It is amusing to see the open-mouthed wonder of the natives over these two innovations. It is the first time in their lives they have ever seen either of them.

Other Changes
Recently the department of materials and supplies has been moved from Panama to Colon. Under the old regime, that department, being located at Panama, all of the materials and supplies for the entire Isthmus had to be shipped from the docks at Colon to Panama, then after being booked in the office there, be re-shipped to points along the line to which it may have been destined. The delay in receiving the supplies in consequence of this double shipment, was most annoying. By having the department located at the point where the goods are received from the ships saves an endless amount of red tape and loss of temper at the needless delays in shipping goods.

Go to Empire

All of the officers are soon to be removed from Panama and be located at Empire, a charming spot which has been occupied by the marines for the past year. No healthier spot can be found than this. It is on a considerable elevation with excellent drainage, good water supply and excellent sanitary conditions already in existence. The office force will have every opportunity of enjoying life and the beauties of nature as they could not in Panama with its narrow, dirty streets and filthy inhabitants.

With so many changes being made and so much progress manifest at every point along the line between Colon and Panama one cannot but feel that things are moving on the Isthmus and to some purpose, too.

MOREAUX IS IN BAD SCRAPE JUST NOW

Man in Custody Here Some Time Ago Is Held for Trial in Madison.

A. T. Moreaux, a Cuban who was taken in custody in Janesville some weeks ago by the city marshal and later released, has been held for trial in the Dane county municipal court on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Moreaux when in Janesville was acting as agent for the Sprague collecting agency of Chicago and after securing two notes, one for a hundred and the other for twenty-five dollars, sold them to a local merchant at a discount. After leaving Janesville he made his home in Evansville and later removed to Stoughton, where his present trouble originated. Attorney J. M. Clancy of Stoughton, who appeared for Moreaux in court, made a petition for the dismissal of his client, but this was denied by Judge Donovan. October 2 the information will be filed and a jury drawn. The time of the trial will also be set. Moreaux was arrested upon complaint of Asie O. Thorson of the town of Dunkirk. The plaintiff alleges that August 16 last the defendant came to him representing himself as a bank examiner and saying that he was authorized to collect a certain debt due the Stoughton State bank. Thorson claims that under these alleged false pretenses Moreaux obtained from him stock in the Wheeler Prairie Farmers' Cooperative Creamery company to the amount of $50 and also a promissory note of $10. Several witnesses were sworn at the examination yesterday.

CORN CROP IS NOW SAFE FROM FROSTS

Matured Rapidly and is in a Condition to Withstand Cold—Is Being Cut.

United States Department of Agriculture Crop and Weather Bulletin for the week ending Monday, September 18.—During the early part of the week the weather was clear and moderately cool, with general frosts over the middle and northern sections on the 12th and 13th. No material damage resulted from the frosts, except to a few fields of late corn and tender garden truck in exposed localities. Cloudy and unsettled weather followed, and on Thursday and Friday rains were general over the greater portion of the state, delaying farm work to a considerable extent. The week closed with unsettled weather general over the state. Fall plowing has been pushed forward rapidly, except where delayed by rains, and some seeding has been done, with the soil generally in very good condition.

Corn has matured very rapidly during the week, and is now safe from the frost throughout the state, with the possible exception of a few late fields. Cutting is under way in all sections, and the crop has very few proved satisfactions. The average date of killing frost for the state is September 25th, but for corn crop has now reached a point where the possibility of damage, by frost, unless exceptionally severe, is very remote. Farmers are sowing and cutting corn as rapidly as weather conditions will permit.

Threshing is completed, with the exception of scattered points where delayed by rains, and yields are as a rule satisfactory, with grain sound and of good color.

Potatoes Unsatisfactory
No material change is noted in the condition of potatoes, and the crop continues very unsatisfactory, rot and blight having rendered many fields practically worthless. A few favored localities report fair yields, but taking the state as a whole the crop is practically a failure.

Tobacco Is Excellent
Tobacco harvest has been delayed by the rains during the latter part of the week, but is nearing completion. The yield was affected to some extent by hailstorms during the season, but the portion of the crop which escaped injury is of excellent quality.

Clover Crop Is Heavy
Buckwheat, cutting is well advanced and the yield and quality excellent. Pastures continue in very satisfactory condition. Second crop of hay, but yields of seed are light, as a rule, and much of the crop has been cut for hay. Apples are very unsatisfactory, except in the state as a whole, are very poor. Sugar beets and other minor crops generally satisfactory. Gardens good except where damaged by frosts.

Southern Section
Afton, Rock county: Corn ripening rapidly and some pieces are being cut; tobacco harvest about completed; sugar beets doing well.—U. G. Waite.

Kewaskum, Washington county: Some corn cut and the crop is good; threshing about finished; potatoes in some fields rotting badly.—W. M. Colvin.

Kilbourn, Columbia county: Corn is safe from frost and a good portion in the lock; ground too dry for plowing; no frost in this vicinity.—M. M. Hayes.

Westby, Vernon county: Rain Thursday and Saturday delayed harvesting of tobacco; ground in good condition for plowing and seeding.—Paul T. Panslow.

Sandusky, Sauk county: Corn crop all safe and about all cut; threshing well along and grain in fine shape; pastures in good condition.—Ed. Markham.

San Prairie, Dane county: Weather favorable for growing crops, corn denting and maturing rapidly; light rain Thursday night.—Allen Cobb.

METHODISTS CONFER ON CHURCH WORK

Rev. Tippet and Elder McChesney Are at Wausau for Wisconsin Conference.

Rev. J. H. Tippet and Elder E. S. McChesney of Janesville are at Wausau in attendance upon the Wisconsin Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. This conference is made up of five districts and extends from north to south throughout the state. There is considerable business to be attended to, among which will be the selection of new pastors for the different churches. With all probability Rev. Tippet will be returned to the Central M. E. Church here as his retention has been requested by this church. There is some talk of combining some of the five districts so as to leave but four and if this is done it is possible that Elder McChesney will be removed to the new district. Bishop Wilson, who will preside at the conference, makes his appearance for the first time as a bishop. He was elected from Chattanooga, Tenn., in May, and has just closed the conference at Madison. The conference will end on Monday.

MILK WAGON KILLED BOY AT COOKSVILLE

Wheels Ran Over His Stomach and He Gave a Few Gasps and Died Quickly.

Word comes from Cooksville that a lad 18 years old was killed Monday under peculiar circumstances on the Evansville road between that village and the old-time stage town of Union. He was a son of Mr. Lamb, a well-to-do farmer of that neighborhood. Young Lamb was hauling milk to the creamery and in some way he fell from the load and as he dropped he shouted "whoa" to the team, which stopped just as the wheel rested upon his stomach. Those who saw the accident and ran to his rescue found him unconscious and dying. He gave a few gasps and expired.

IMPROVEMENT WILL BE MADE SHORTLY

Numbers on Rural Mail Boxes Are Soon To Be Placed on Routes Out from Janesville.

All regulation mail boxes on the rural routes leading from Janesville are to be numbered. Orders have been received here to this effect and each of the carriers is directed to re-view the boxes on his route before Sept. 30 and report which comply with the requirements and are entitled to the designated numbers. The general rules are as follows: No non-weather-proof or otherwise unfit receptacles for mail shall be numbered. All such must be replaced with regulation "approved" boxes by the owners, or no numbers will be assigned. No rural mail box erected within the limits of an incorporated city or town or within one-half mile of a postoffice at an unincorporated town or village shall be numbered unless such box was erected prior to October 3, 1903, or is being served by specific order of the department. Service must not be withdrawn, however, from any box now being served, until such withdrawal is expressly ordered by the office. The numbers assigned to boxes on each route will commence with "No. 1," which will pertain to the first regulation box reached by the carrier, after leaving the starting point of his route, traveling in accordance with official description; box after box thereafter to be counted in regular sequence in order of service from "No. 1" to and including all those boxes entitled to service located on the route. Each number thus arrived at should be recorded in the carrier's roster book opposite the name of the owner of the box so designated, and also opposite the name of every other person entitled to receive mail in said box. Numbers thus applied to boxes and registered must be promptly reported to and recorded by the postmaster of the distributing office to which they belong, and must not be changed thereafter except by specific authority of such postmaster. As soon as possible after completing the assignment of box numbers on a route the postmaster will furnish each box owner with the official number of his box, and request that this number be at once legibly and durably inscribed in a conspicuous place on the outside of the box.

PARIS FASHION NOTES.
The foreign modistes who come regularly to Paris each year for their season's modes are rapidly thinning out, carrying with them trunks full of handsome gowns and wraps for all occasions and the makers of headgear are following suit. This means that Paris, to whom all the world looks for its fashions, has definitely decided upon the modes of autumn and winter, and, stamped with her approval, they are now finding their way to all the ends of the earth where lovers of beautiful gowns abound.

The keynote of the season's modes is elegance; it is exemplified in gowns and in wraps; in blouses and in hats, in negligees and in the jaunty outfits which delight the heart of the athletic girl; in fact one finds it everywhere, for the simplest house frock is as elegant in its outlines as the most elaborate creation for evening wear. Of course this is due principally to the luxurious trimmings which are used so lavishly this season, yet the untrimmed frock, too, has an elegance of cut and fit that makes it attractive anywhere.

Tailored costumes are calculated to tempt the most conservative dressers and empty the purse of those ambitious to lead the ranks of the fashionable. Made in the handsomest cloths and velvets and trimmed in elaborate fashion, they are examples of the couturiere's most finished art.

Particularly fetching is a gown of cinnamon red cloth with well-fitted skirt which touches the floor slightly all around, and ends in a graceful flare. It is plaited to the knees, where a graduated flounce supplies the necessary fullness, and this flounce is trimmed with folds of the same material edged with silk cords. For simplicity this corded trimming is to be highly commended, while at the same time it would be difficult to find an embellishment any more effective.

The bodice of the gown has a vest of rich lace cut in V-shape, and folding over the vest are revers of checked silk. This silk is again used for V-shaped designs set in the shoulder seams and extending down the front of the bodice toward the bust line, where they meet and are finished with silk cords and the cords outline the rather close-fitting sleeves, slashed at the wrists and filled with lace.

Another model in navy cloth owes its distinguished effect to an ornamentation of stitching. In fact this trimming is the sole decoration of many a very smart costume this season. While no end of trimming is lavished upon jackets, blouses and bodices, the tendency seems to be toward simpler skirts, whose unbroken line lends youth and grace to the figure. In many instances where there is a trimming other than stitching it is flat, giving almost the same effect of stitching.

The skirt in question is accompanied by a short jacket of velvet with a fishie effect of the velvet draped over the front outlined with elegant blue and white mink braid. The elbow sleeves have turned-back cuffs of white cloth, fitted with narrow blue sash-tape, but on vertically and finished with tiny blue enameled buttons. The vest of the jacket is of the same braided cloth and underneath is worn a blouse of blue and white checked silk.

Most of the modes displayed in the smart shops, even the tailored designs offer suggestions for the light-weight fabrics which are too graceful to be relinquished by the woman of fashion. Side by side with a natty checked suit with short jacket is shown a frock in French voile, the skirt made without any trimming, unless grant the courtesy of the term to the five rows of shirring about the waistline. The bodice has a yoke of black lace over silk, vandycked into the front, almost to the girdle, which is of tulle. The upper part of the sleeves are lace to the elbow, where they are finished with cuffs, met by an undersleeve of eyelet embroidery.

REGISTERED UNDER I. U. FISHER'S NAME

Man Answering Description of Suspicious Character, Selling Watches, Was at Park Hotel Monday.

Monday night a stranger who had a hard luck story to tell attempted to sell watches at McClure's restaurant and several other places in the city. He finally succeeded in disposing of one to a man employed at Russell's barn. Officer Bear heard about the matter and proceeded to investigate. He found that the timepiece was worth much less than the few dollars paid for it. Others who had seen the man said that his pockets bulged with watches of various makes, but that he only offered one for sale at a time. When a search for him was made he could not be located. It now appears that a stranger answering to his description registered under the name of I. U. Fisher of Evansville at the Park hotel Monday night and left at 6:30 the following morning. It was subsequently learned that the real I. U. Fisher had not been in Janesville. The Henry jewelry store in Rockford was robbed recently and the burglars got away with a number of watches. They were all first-class timepieces, however.

MRS. E. HALL

Forty Years Ago.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, September 20, 1865—Session Laws.—The Register of Deeds has received the session law of the last session, apportioned to the use of Rock county. Justices of the Peace will please make a note of this.

Theatrical.—The company now playing here is one of the best that has ever visited our city, and present their pieces in a manner to please the lovers of drama. Tonight they play "The Honey Moon," and the "Magic Trumpet."

Rems in Brief.—The foundations of a new, large iron foundry are being laid by Messrs. Jas. Harris & Co., Dr. Bailey and family took their departure on Monday for the East on a visit, expecting to be absent a month or so.—Misses Clark & Thompson have one of the largest and handsomest stocks of millinery ever brought to this market.—Rev. Mr. Kinney is visiting in the city.—C. C. Keeler, Esq., has reached home from an Eastern tour.

Ladies Equestrian Prizes.—The prizes for the ladies equestrian trial at the State Fair, which were purchased of Messrs. Webb & Co., are now on exhibition at their store. They are very handsome indeed, the first prize consisting of a silver tea set, the second of six solid silver table spoons, the third of six heavy tea spoons and the fourth of a silver card case. If those who propose to compete for these prizes will only go and take a look at them, they will be impelled to extra endeavors to obtain one.

State Fair.—The ladies connected with Rev. Farrington's society, have rented rooms for an eating stand on the State Fair grounds, and earnestly call upon their friends in the country to contribute such provisions for their table as they may feel disposed to donate. Everything which good housewives know so well how to prepare to satisfy the inner man, will be thankfully received. Their object to raise money to furnish the new church edifice now nearly completed and they feel assured that this call will be generously responded to by their friends. Provisions may be left with Mr. Burgess at the Post Office, at the house of Mr. Furlong on Main street, or at the tent on the Fair grounds.

COMING Attractions

When "The Runaways" is presented at the Myers Grand on Monday, Sept. 25, it will show George Evans in the leading male role. After filling the coffers of vaudeville managers for years, "The Honey Boy" is out to conquer in new fields and best advice says he is winning appreciation in musical comedy.

The cleverness and witty talent of George Evans have made him a picturesque figure on the American stage. The management of "The Runaways," along with presenting the New York Casino production, has allowed Mr. Evans to introduce some of his ideas into the show. Originally is a marked characteristic of "The Honey Boy." He believes in discarding conventional methods in giving the people something new to laugh at and following this idea out in "The Runaways" he has made a great specialty enterprise out of what was already one of the prettiest musical comedies and spectacular extravaganzas that has ever come out of New York.

But Mr. Evans is an auxiliary only as a feature of "The Runaways." He is the chauffeur wheeling a great machine through lanes of laughter and roads of admiration. In the vehicle are three prima donas, six comedians, a chorus of sixty young women of striking beauty and other features to commend, the production as superior to any now playing on the road.

In connection with the specialties introduced by Mr. Evans "The Runaways" is the same as when it ran for seven months at the New York Casino. Lively and catchy music is interspersed with sweet songs and the company is made up of well trained and graceful dancers. There is an entirely new set of scenery and costumes for this year's company. The best efforts of the scenic painter have been called into play and the commencing has been attended to by a leading Paris modiste.

The "Runaways" is a dignified, consistent, novel and interesting entertainment.

"Parsifal," which Janesville is to see presently is a mystic play, based upon one of the popular legends of the middle ages and wrought into the most attractive literary form by such medieval singers as Chretien de Troyes and Wolfram von Eschenbach. That curious body of mystical romance which grew up between the years 1170 and 1220, and which is known as the Grail cycle, forms the legendary background of the tale. The "Parsifal" story is but one of the many romances in which the sacred cup, which received the blood of the Savior, is the pivot about which the action revolves.

The prime significance of the drama is in its exposition of that theme which Schopenhauer has made the subject of one of his greatest works. "The renunciation of the will to live" or altruism; the sacrifice of self for another.

"Whillet the mind is in a state of uncertainty, the smallest impulse will direct it to either side." With the shopper the advertisement is a little better than the others acts as this "smallest impulse," and decides as to which of the stores she shall visit.

THE AGE FOR WORK.

Many of the leading railroads, who a few years ago established the age limit, have removed the stricture and adopted the more sensible code of mental and physical ability.

While it is true that in the operating department, endurance and muscular strength are demanded, it is also true that in many other departments experience which comes with age is of greater value.

Accidents, which are so common in the service, are seldom attributed to carelessness on the part of old age and long experience. The men who dare to take unusual chances are not the men who have grown gray in the service, and while the step may be a trifle slower, it is always in the path of safety and careful obedience as the result of long practice and wholesome discipline.

Work is the panacea for all the imaginary ills of life, and a very large percentage of the ailments belong to this class. Place a man on the shelf at 60 when he ought to be in his prime, and leave him there for a year free from work or responsibility, and he ages ten years in a twelve month.

The Milwaukee road had in its employ for forty years a passenger conductor by the name of Prescott. His run was from Milwaukee to Prairie-du Chien and he was as much a recognized fixture on this division as the stations along the line.

The man grew old in the service and during the last ten years of his life the brakeman helped him out with his work, when the trains were unusually heavy, but his mental vision was clear and he was always able to carry the responsibility of his position.

So he died in the harness, as every man should die, envied by a little coterie of railroad men who had been placed on the pension list because of the age limit.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

The city of Chicago with a mayor elected on the issue of municipal ownership of the street railway system, is struggling with a problem which is no nearer solution than it was a year ago.

That the scheme, while popular, is impractical, is being demonstrated by investigation, and while Glasgow and other European cities, own and control public utilities, conditions are entirely different and will continue to be for all time to come.

The city of Chicago voted for municipal ownership, but what does this signify. Simply, that the irresponsible majority who are not tax payers represented the balance of power, as is the case in all large American cities. There are plenty of people who are always ready to vote away other people's money, and Chicago has its full quota. Conditions are different in Europe. The Tribune correspondent, who made a tour of investigation said of Glasgow, for instance:

"A voter in Glasgow is either a house owner or a householder or a renter. There is positively no floating vote; the denizens of lodging houses, the colonized voters, the dregs of humanity who are marshaled in gangs to stuff the ballot box—
'who disgrace the American cities—'who disfigure the American cities—by their influence on local government—have absolutely no voice in Scotland." Such a thing as a fraudulent vote is unheard of and unknown. The power which sways elections in some American cities is not present, and party politics does not enter into the question of municipal government. "Not over half the adult males of Glasgow have the right of suffrage, and municipal ownership flourishes best in those cities where the suffrage is most restricted."

This means of course that the people who pay the bills decide how their money should be invested, and it also means that irresponsible men are barred from office.

These are advantages not possible to a republican form of government where the right of franchise is regarded sacred to every man, and where the vote of the tramp is as potent as the vote of the millionaire.
The time will never come in this country when public ownership of public utilities will be practicable. It was not a part of the program when the nation was founded.

The city of Racine is about to vote on the license question and a lively campaign is on in the interests of a $500 license. This is the highest amount authorized by the state. The traffic would be better regulated with a uniform license of $1,000 the same as Nebraska and some other states noted for law and order.

The sugar market is weak and the outlook not favorable for an advance. The beet sugar factories in France are many of them said to be embarrassed and some of them not able to meet their obligations with the beet growers.

There is trouble in the camp of the game wardens, and Chief Overbeck has been removed to make room for another politician. The new appointee is Assemblyman Jonas Sven-holt of Shawano, and comes to him as a reward for faithfulness.

The anti-pass law is being tested in a suit before Judge Webb, of Grand Rapids. It is safe to say that when the court gets through with the case that the people as well as the railroads will enjoy more privileges than are now accorded to the railways by the Attorney-general.

Friends of the retiring Marshal, Mr. Comstock, are criticizing the commission council for not giving him an opportunity to resign.

If the people will give the newly elected City Marshal the support to which he is entitled, the laws will be enforced.

The President is to visit the south next month, as planned, in spite of yellow fever, unless quarantine regulations prohibit.

Ringling's circus is laid up for repairs in Missouri, on account of a storm which demolished the tent last Saturday.

PRESS COMMENT.

Racine Herald: Indian Chief Rainin-the-Face has folded his umbrella for the last time.

Chicago Tribune: The late Alton B. Parker has arisen in his large white cravat, and exclaimed: "What's that?"

Oshkosh Northwestern: What a temptation it must be to Tom Lawson to say "I told you so" in regard to this life insurance revelations.

Chicago Tribune: The average annual consumption of prunes in this country is only one and one-fourth pounds per capita. The trouble is that the distribution is glaringly unequal.

Two Rivers Chronicle: President Roosevelt will confer a great benefit upon a large number of impecunious country editors if he will only inform them where he buys his $4.00 suits of clothes.

Green Bay Gazette: In a moment of incautious exuberance Editor Andrews of the Menominee Herald-Leader makes the prediction that Menominee is the coming metropolis of the northwest. She'll have to hurry.

Kansas City Star: In Abilene last week the doctors came very nearly making a mistake. When they found the patient had no money they changed their diagnosis from appendicitis, and instead of an operation they gave him three pills. The patient is now at work.

New York Tribune: Colonel Watterson says: "We would strip the democratic party of all surplusage and hold it ready for the fray." After the stripplings the party has received in the last three presidential campaigns, the colonel's prescription suggests an indecent exposure.

Indianapolis Sentinel: Looking back at the evidence in the Taggart divorce scandal it would seem that the W. C. T. U. made a mistake in abolishing the army canteen. It was the sideboard that should have been banished.

Mineral Point Tribune: Some newspaper proprietors are waking up to the fact that they give free advertising to about four times the value of every complimentary ticket they accept and in addition are subjected to the humiliation of being looked upon as "deadbeats."

Marquette Eagle-Star: The La-Crosse Chronicle states that the mail carriers there have walked 54,500,000 miles since service was started. La-Crosse must have been founded about the same time as was ancient Rome.

Whitewater Register: It is reported that Frank G. Bigelow, ex-banker, has become a convert to Christian Science and is giving it earnest study. If he gets so that he can give the bank accounts of some of his Wisconsin victims an absent treatment with vivifying effect they will rejoice in his new departure.

Providence Journal: In appointing a trained newspaper editor to be chief of the literary bureau of the isthmian canal commission at a salary of $10,- 000 Chairman Shonts has evidently acted wisely. It has been apparent for some time that the interviews and statements of the various members and officers of the commission sadly need the intelligent editing which, presumably, they will now receive.

Superior Telegram: The Clipper of Haddam, Kansas, tells about a girl in that town who went to a base ball game and surprised her escort by her knowledge of the game. The young man had ventured to say:
"Baseball reminds me of the household—the plate, the batter, the foul and the flies." "And it reminds me of marriage," she added. "First, the diamond, where they are engaged, the struggle and the hits, when the men go out, and finally the difficulty they have in getting home."

Madison Journal: There must be lots of people in Janesville who have nothing to do. The Recorder says:
"Fully three thousand people were attracted to the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets at 7:30 o'clock last evening for the purpose of witnessing the high dive, into a net from the top of the Hotel Myers. The act was certainly a thriller for on scheduled time a 'dummy' was pushed off the hotel and fell into the net amid cheers of the great crowd."

Madison Democrat: The Milwan-kee Free Press need not go into an explanation of the reasons of the be-sant for returning a case of beer to him by a brewer. It is enough to know that he returned it, nor was it necessary that the present should be a case of beer. The making of presents of any kind whatever to any public officer, president or pathmaster, should not be permitted, and aside from the praise given the president by the W. C. T. U. the rest of us should also give the president credit for not giving any encouragement to the vicious practice of giving presents to public officers.

La Crosse Leader-Press: Judge Parker will hardly be blamed for taking advantage of the revelations affecting the campaign contributions of the big life insurance companies to enforce the significance of the declaration which he made in the closing days of the last national campaign regarding the corruption of elections. These do not prove the specific charge made by him as they time, but they show that the public conscience must be aroused against the expenditure of vast sums of money in furtherance of political

Nice Skillet of Popcorn.
Superior Telegram: The Republican of Eldorado, Kansas, says that every time President Roosevelt whacks his big stick down into a rotten place in the public service out pops a United States senator.

Quite true, indeed.
When the buzzards begin to circle around a yellow spot in the financial world and an investigation is started to find what's dead out pops a United States senator.

Every time a stockholder of a money concern who believes he is being robbed by his fellow grafters kicks the top off the graft out pops a United States senator.

The first shot out of the box in the Equitable Life exposure was a United States senator.

The first whack of the big stick on the land grafters in Oregon exposed a United States senator. The explosion of a small bomb under a St.
Louis get-rich-quick graft nailed a United States senator. One random shot at the Panama scandal threatens to expose two United States senators.

The cancan frauds, now being investigated, will catch a United States senator. There are but ninety of him in all, but he seems ubiquitous.

No other body of ninety men in the whole country can show such a record.

Mr. Burbank on Strip-teuterie.
Chicago Chronicle: Luther Burbank has virtually declared, in a speech at a complimentary dinner in San Francisco, that it is practicable to do with the human race as he has done with fruits and flowers.

He raises the question whether acquired qualities of character can be transmitted to offspring. This was the question on which Charles Darwin and some of those who accepted his general theory of evolution parted company, one side of the controversy holding that acquired characteristics necessarily died with the individual.

Mr. Burbank takes the other view, holding that all the character traits born in any child were once acquired by some ancestor, and heredity is only the sum of all past environments and acquisitions. This appears to eliminate completely all notion of the creation of man with any fixed characteristics, susceptible of endless development and open to degeneration by abuse of even atrophy through nonuser, in the law term.

With this view of the race it is not surprising that he holds to the opinion that almost anything, good or bad it would appear, may become incorporated in human character through force of environment, passing from an acquired trait or quality in one into an inherited trait in the next or some later generation, more or less modified in each process but always distinguishable for itself.

He is optimistic about the effect that might come from taking the children of the vicious and the criminal and rearing and keeping them in association with the pure and upright.
He seems to overlook two points in this—one, that the pure and upright will not be exempt from all influence in the association, and, this result, with all the commingling he can suppose, will be something not quite so good as the best of the ingredients.
The bad will be lifted a little and the good will be a little pulled down. This is true of all forces in nature and experience goes to show that it is similarly true of human association. It seems to point to the natural method of elimination of the bad, rather than its improvement, as the condition of upward.

Probably all Nonsense.

Madison Journal: There is some disposition to credit that cook and bull story about American gunners in the Japanese army, and that one of them, the once much talked about Gunner Morgan, went down with the battleship Mikasa.

ling his republican army that every private should feel that he carried a marshal's baton in his knapsack. Admiral Sampson took a contrary view, the caste notion prevailed, and when Gunner Morgan's term of enlistment expired he left the navy.

Morgan's brother is now quoted as saying that with thirty-five other American seamen, Gunner Morgan was tempted by offers of large pay, and listed in the Mikado's navy; that he was assigned to the Mikasa and went down with her. One commentator sees in this yarn marks of strong probability, and gravely adds that the marksmanship Japan displayed in naval engagements smacked too much of American skill to allow the credit for it to be given to the native Japanese. Fudge! Japan's marksmanship in land engagements was as good as her gunnery at sea, and we do not find any one ill informed or ashamed enough to ascribe it to foreign artillery men. Japan bred her own gunners, and her known policy has been strictly to exclude all foreigners from her warships.

This Gunner Morgan yarn recalls the preposterous claim made in England during the Spanish war that the smashing of the Spanish ships at Manila and Santiago was due to the presence in the American fleets of British gunners seduced into the service by extra pay. Let us not indulge in cheap bragadoocio and self-praise of that childish and offensive sort.

A Fool's Harvest

Superior Telegram: There is a moral worth remembering in the life of Lord Curzon. He has just stepped down and out from a fat job as viceroy of India. He was virtually king of a rich and populous land. He had wealth, power and opportunity such as is given to few men. It isn't lack of ability that downs some of our famous men. It isn't that they are unoriginal or that they lack ac-tiveness. It is because they can't stand prosperity. They get drunk on power and adulation just as sure as the person in a lower stage of life befuddles his brain with cheap whiskey. Lord Curzon was affected with a severe case of swelled head. He felt far above the common herd. He showed it. He believed himself to be so superior to even the native princes that he made himself obnoxious. A snob is hated the world over. Pomp, salutes and ceremonies fed Lord Curzon's vanity. Rich robes and jewels and the crawling slaves who bowed before him were a source of pride and joy. He carried ceremony to the point of insanity. He was ridiculous. But what is worse, he is blamed for the expeditions to Tibet and Afghanistan. They were his per projects and were without permanent results. It is asserted that the taxes to pay the enormous expenses of the expedition increased the burden of the people from 69 to 90 per cent and the result of this tax burden according to Sir Henry Cotton, was the death from starvation of over a million souls.

SAYS THE OWL

Hope enables a man to accomplish wonders—in his mind.

A man seldom has to work overtime to make a fool of himself.

Where there is a man's will there is a woman's way to break it.

Honeysuckles and the sweet girl graduates bloom simultaneously.

A man seldom goes to a friend for a loan if he really needs the money.

A well-balanced man doesn't have to part his hair or name in the middle.

More women would go in for vocal culture if they could buy things for a song.

After singing the baby to sleep a woman proceeds to talk her husband to sleep.

About the only fault the average woman has to find with her past is that it's too long.

During the courtship a young man is never out of danger till the girl says "No" three times.

Some girls proceed to catch on and marry—then implore the divorce judge to help them let loose again.

People would have more faith in a reformer if he would furnish proof of his sincerity by beginning with himself.

When a man stands at the marriage altar he gets as nervous as he does when watching the bulletins of a baseball game.

Lots of men who figure on schemes to make millions would be surprised to find themselves in possession of $5 in real money.

Walking is said to be the best exercise a man can indulge in. Perhaps that is why so many men walk home from the races.

There is only one right way to work and it is neither in doing things before they are started, nor in doing them all over again after they are finished.

The world is altogether too restricted in its use of the word "art." Work of any kind, done superlatively well, is art—dusting pictures as well as painting them.

It is only when at work that man fulfills his proper place in God's creation scheme. They are indeed rare exceptions who also serve, who only stand and wait."

A good worker is pretty much like a horse, after all. When it's uphill going, don't worry him; when it's downhill going, don't hurry him; and be sure and take good care of him once he's in the barn.—Warwick James

POLITENESS A NECESSITY.

It does not cost anything to be polite to your friends and acquaintances, and incidentally it goes a long way toward making life pleasant for yourself.

A civil answer makes more friends than a gruff one, and a smile succeeds where a frown fails.

We have no right to impose our little tempers and annoyances on our fellow beings.

The fact that one person annoys us does not justify us in visiting it on the next person we meet.

And yet that is what a great many of us do. One trivial annoyance often upsets us for the whole day.

Some people have the happy knack of showing courtesy to every one with whom they come in contact.

It is a delightful quality, and one which brings its possessor great popularity.

Abruptness is a hard fault to cure, and yet I think it can be done.

You see, it is so easy to hurt people's feelings by speaking abruptly to

It may be done unintentionally, but nevertheless the fact remains that it is done.

that those who are most given to hurting others are generally very easily hurt themselves.—Beatrice

COURT A MUSEUM OF DILAPIDATED SHOESExamination of Witnesses in Action Against P. Rudolph Resumed Before Judge Fifield.

In municipal court today the examination of witnesses in the action brought by R. P. Smith Sons & Co. against P. Rudolph of Monterey to collect some $300 for a consignment of shoes which defendant claimed did not give satisfaction and refused to pay for, was continued. There was a grand display of footgear, ranging from new shoes which had never seen service to tough looking old brogans that had "plattered" all the lines of their alleged one-time beauty and symmetry. The attorneys seized, fondled, and warred over these dilapidated wrecks with an abandon and abstraction worthy of the grave-digger in "Hamlet," while the jury looked on in awe. It was the contention of the defendants that all of them had looked like Exhibit "A" in the beginning and that they had arrived at the present unhappy state from two to three weeks' time. Witnesses, including Mr. Brown of Brown Bros., testified that the in-soles were made of some such composition as pulverized scrap leather and shellac. The clerk for Mr. Rudolph was not certain whether or not he had noticed that this particular part of the sample shown him was of composition, but he admitted that the new shoe on exhibition was to all intents and purposes a duplicate of the one exhibited to him by the agent when he bought the consignment. From the count, some ten or twenty pairs of the shoes appear to have been returned to the retailer within a short time after they had been purchased.

Miss Cunningham and Mr. O'Donnell attended school together in Monticello and it was there the friendship was formed. Over a hundred attended the annual meeting and banquet of the Loani Band at the Congregational church persons last evening. Flowers in profusion adorned the tables and the scene was a very attractive and inspiring one indeed. After the repeat had been finished Rev. Denison made some appropriate remarks and Mrs. Denison presented the four graduates from the Covenant Club, an organization of the younger girls, who were entitled to membership in the society of those who "Look out and not in." An offering of $40 for foreign missions was made and the officers who had served during the year just closed were re-elected. They are: President, Miss Frances Ryckman; Vice-President, Mrs. J. A. Craig; Treasurer, Mrs. P. H. Farnsworth; Secretary, Mrs. F. A. Capelle.

THE AUTUMN IS DUE ON SATURDAY NEXTExact Moment of Its Appearance Is Fixed by the Real Weather

Autumn will arrive in Janesville at twenty-nine minutes and thirty-nine seconds after 11 o'clock a. m., central time, according to the officers in charge of the United States hydrographic office at Chicago. This is the exact second when the sun will cross the equator on its journey from the north to the south this year, and it marks the beginning of the fall season. Rain and heavy gales invariably make their appearance in the great lake region during the autumnal equinox. The Gazette has received many inquiries in regard to the precise moment when the sun will cross the line and this led to the copying in this issue an official bulletin on the subject for the information of the public.

The body was removed to the Kimball morgue at 3:32. No one had identified the man at that time. He was of middle age with a scarred head and mustache. His age is placed at thirty years. Possibly he was a farmer or patient at the county farm.

KICKERS' KOLUM

To the Police: There is a state law that restricts the speed of automobiles on the streets of any city in the state. When a machine, run by a lady, can go up the Milwaukee street hill for two blocks in twenty-eight seconds this seems to be exceeding the speed limit. The same can be said of the Court street hill coming down. Why not investigate this matter even if it does his friends? The laws should be upheld and if wrong declared null and void. Too many hairbreadth escapes are recorded each day to make it safe walking when such things are allowed to happen without comment.

"WEARY WILLIE"

To the Editor: Can you explain why the council or by what authority the council discharged John Comstock from his office on Monday night? This is a topic being freely discussed on the streets today and it would be interesting to learn the true facts.

By the editor: The exact reasons for the dismissal of Mr. Comstock were not stated specifically. The council has the right to dismiss him at any meeting under section 4 chapter 7 of the city charter. This section reads as follows: "Section 4.—The common council may appoint a city marshal and may remove and displace him at their pleasure."

To the Council: In hearing your report of the sidewalk inspector and his assistant, why do you not call their attention to the bad walks in the Third ward and compel the property-owners to repair them? Some of them rock like a cradle when you walk on them and some with loose boards in them are a menace to the public who have to use them. The richer the property-owner is the worse is his sidewalk. "PEDESTRIAN."

Chautauqua Meeting: Directors of the Janesville Chautauqua Assembly will meet at the Hotel Myers parlors at eight o'clock this evening to confer with Mr. Holbrook regarding next year's program and transact other business.

ALDERMAN CONFESSES BEFORE GRAND JURYFormer Solon of Milwaukee Tells Inquisors That Anti-Graft Workers Are Guilty of Bribery.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 20.—Former Ald. William Murphy, several times indicted on graft charges, went before the grand jury and made confession. He implicated two prominent and wealthy business men who have taken a prominent part in the anti-graft movement as bribers. This charge was made in connection with the granting of franchises to the Wells Building company for constructing subways and the Fler-Stowell company for side tracks.
Murphy sent the jury a letter stating that he wished to impart important information. The district attorney long had been trying to get him to testify.
He was questioned informally by several jurors, telling how he had been bribed by prominent business men who were active in prosecuting the graft investigation. The jury refused to take his testimony and he was excused.
Tuesday morning Murphy gave out statements to the papers that he had not been allowed to testify. In the afternoon the jury reached him and he made his statements. He was in the jury room for an hour and when he came out he said he had told all he knew and was sorry.

APPLEBY'S BONDS TO BE APPROVED TODAYSpecial Meeting of the Common Council Called at Five O'clock This Afternoon.

At five o'clock this afternoon the city council is to meet to pass upon the bonds of William H. Appleby as city marshal of Janesville. In all likelihood, therefore, he will assume the duties of his office tonight. There has been some question as to whether or not the city has had any marshal since Monday night. According to City Treasurer Fathers and City Clerk Badger, J. J. Comstock is marshal until the newly elected has qualified by filing bonds and the same have been formally accepted. Upon learning of the action of the aldermen on the night of the last meeting, however, Marshal Comstock immediately removed his star and closed his desk. He has not worn the uniform either yesterday or today. Though he believes, in common with certain others, that the legality of the proceedings in some of their aspects might be questioned, Mr. Comstock is not disposed to make any fight, even if such were demonstrated to be the case.

QUARANTINE QUARREL
MAY TURN OUT BAD MESSIllinois Board of Health Orders St.
Louis City Physician to Cease Examination of Passengers.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 20.—Threatened trouble between Illinois and St. Louis health authorities came to an issue Tuesday when, acting under orders from the secretary of the Illinois State Board of Health, Dr. William O. Krohn ordered Dr. H. R. Fearbourn of the St. Louis city dispensary, to cease examination of passengers on a Mobile and Ohio train at Sparta, Ill.

Dr. Krohn accompanied Dr. Fearbourn to St. Louis and conferred with Health Commissioner Snodgrass. Dr. Krohn declared the complaint of the Illinois officials is that St. Louis physicians annoy passengers going to Illinois points. Dr. Snodgrass contended that they did nothing more than examine the health certificates of passengers coming into St. Louis and other Missouri points from the south.

Neither side was willing to make any concessions, and it was decided by the city physicians to submit the matter to City Counselor Bates. Dr. Snodgrass declared, however, that if the contention of the Illinois officials was sustained the St. Louis health authorities would immediately establish a bridge quarantine and examine every train, foot and street car passenger who attempted to enter St. Louis over the bridge.

$2,100 Pipe Organ Has Been Purchased.

Extensive improvements, long in contemplation, are being made at St. Patrick's church. A new cement walk and steps are being laid. The roof is being re-shingled; new glass is being installed in many of the windows and within the edifice a new cork carpet is being laid. In addition to this a new pipe organ costing $2,100 has been ordered. It is the expectation that all the work will be completed and the fine musical instrument installed by a Christmas time. Members of the congregation have taken hold of the project with much enthusiasm and have been very generous in their contributions, manifesting the best spirit the church has known in years.

NOTES OF THE RAILWAYS

Successful Tests With Peat as Locomotive Fuel.

LUXURY ON ENGLISH TRAINS.

Vallets, Ladies' Maids and Numbered Seats Among Other Conveniences. Each Crew on the Pennsylvania Lines to Have Its Special Engine. Trainmen Not to Wear Flowers.

Peat is abundantly stored in our Maine bogs, says the Lewiston Evening Journal. Androscoggin county has enough peat to supply all Maine with fuel for a generation. Yet we fail to encourage intelligent efforts to develop our own resources in fuel. A number of experiments which will be of interest to many Maine men have recently been made by the Boston and Maine railroad in the use of peat fuel. So far the tests have given entire satisfaction, and now the company is preparing to give the new locomotive fuel a more extended trial than any heretofore undertaken.

The company had its attention called to the value of peat as a steaming agency some weeks ago and upon representation that it was equal to bituminous coal was induced to test its qualities. These were eminently satisfying, and a carload of the material has been delivered for further experiment. The source of supply is in the town of Lewington, Mass., and it is said that this single deposit would furnish enough fuel for all the railroads entering Boston for a period of 250 years.

The treatment consists in cutting out the peat in large cubes and then subjecting them to heavy pressure, which exudes all the moisture and makes the mass as compact as anthracite. In the pressing the cubes take on an elliptical shape, with an inch hole running through them, which admits of free burning. In reporting on the first experiments the officials of the road say that they found that this fuel made an exceptionally hot fire, was free from smoke and that it could be purchased for less than coal. From an economical standpoint, however, the coal showed to better advantage owing to slower consumption, but the two advantages named for the peat fully offset that in favor of coal.

The further tests which the company proposes making will be watched with interest, as a solution of the present smoke nuisance may be found in the general use for steaming purposes of the peat fuel.

The Great Western railway in England has put a train called the "Cornishman Limited" on the run between London and Penzance. Between London and Plymouth, 240 miles, the average speed will be 57.7 miles per hour, says the Railway Review and Engineering. Three new trains have been built for the service, composed of the largest cars yet run in England. Each coach is seventy feet long and nine and a half feet wide. A train is made up of six coaches, with a total seating capacity for 238 passengers.

Every seat in the train is numbered, and the passenger will receive a perforated ticket, half of which will be torn off by the guard and slipped, so that it cannot be removed, into a little slot at the back of the seat just above the head.

Electric light and electric fans are conveniently located. Vallets and ladies' maids are carried, in addition to the guards and dining car attendants. The maids will constantly patrol the train to render service to women and women traveling without an escort. Children and especially watch over

An order recently issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad company which is heartily received by the engineers and firemen provides that each engine crew shall use the same locomotive all the time, and no other will be assigned to a crew unless they are running extra, says a Pittsburg dispatch. It is understood that in many cases the Pennsylvania has been pooling locomotives on account of the shortage of motive power in recent months, and by the pooling system a locomotive crew gets a different one on nearly every run. The officials realize that when a crew has the same locomotive all the time better care is taken of the machine and better results are obtained.

It will be the duty of the crew to look after the engines at the end of a run, and in this way the officials consider a great deal of repair work will be eliminated. It is also a recognized fact that an engineer becomes attached to a certain engine and can accomplish a great deal more with one than he knows. The new order is not only satisfactory to the trainmen, but is looked upon by the officials as a means of lessening the expense of keeping up the motive power by having the engines carefully looked after from day to day.

"In future do not wear flowers or bouquets in the laps of your coats or any decorations of any kind that are not prescribed by the rules."

The above order, recently issued for the guidance of Norfolk and Western trainmen, was provoked by the remarkable taste for variety and quantity of flowers worn by conductors and other trainmen, says a Cincinnati dispatch to the Pittsburg Dispatch. The officials of the roads thought the trainmen were rather overdoing the bouquet stunts, it seems, and decided to have all posies discarded.

It is said that the final straw added to the load on official shoulders was placed a few days ago when a conductor startlingly decorated himself with sweet peas, bridal roses and nasturtiums.

Keep a Grip on Yourself.

To lose self-control is to lose the key to any situation. No woman who can not hold herself in hand can expect to hold others. It has been well said, that, in any discussion or disagreement with another, if you are in the wrong you can not afford to lose your temper, and if you are in the right there is no occasion to. Or, as a lawyer has wittily put it: "Possession is nine points of the law; self-possession is ten."

Quartz Vessels Leak.

The new quartz vessels, so valuable for their endurance of temperature changes, have disadvantages. They leak at the high temperatures, and Berthelot, using tubes with walls 1-30 of an inch thick, lost a third of the oxygen and a sixth of the nitrogen in one hour at 1,400 degrees C. The sealed-up gases were originally at about air pressure.
